AMP Capital Investors continues to expand Asian Equities Team

AMP Capital Investors continues to expand its Asian Equities team with the appointment of Jonathan Reoch to the position of Senior Portfolio Manager, Asian Equities.

Mr Reoch joins AMP Capital from Maple-Brown Abbott where he held the position of Asian Regional Financials Analyst. In this role he was responsible for analysis and stock calls on financial companies from across a broad spectrum of Asian countries.

Mr Reoch has previously been Head of the Australian banks team at ABN Amro, an equity strategist at CSFB Australia and spent seven years as a portfolio manager with Martin Currie Investment Management where he managed Asia Pacific and Indian portfolios.

AMP Capital has established an Asian Equities team which will offer investors a range of Asian Equity investment opportunities. The team also manages the listed AMP Capital China Growth Fund, the first Australian investment fund able to invest directly into China A shares. Jonathan Reoch's appointment follows the recent appointment of Ragavan Sivanesarajah to the team and now brings the AMP Capital Asian Equities team to six investment professionals located in Sydney and Beijing. Mr Reoch will be located in the Sydney office.

AMP Capital Investors Head of Asian Equities Karma Wilson said: "We are very pleased to have Jonathan join our team. Asian investment markets offer exciting investment opportunities and the expansion of our team makes us well placed to continue delivering these opportunities to our clients."

AMP Capital is one of the few financial institutions globally to hold a QFII licence and therefore be allowed to invest directly in the China A share market. The expansion of AMP Capital's Asian Equities team is part of AMP Capital's plan to be a leading high value-added investment manager in the Asia-Pacific region.
